STANFORD'S LATEST LOSS.

Prof. Lovejoy Resigns from Faculty.

Writes a Tart Letter to Dr. Jordan.

Suit Over Arizona Mine—Bank Creditors' Meeting—Smelter at Tacoma.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 2.—Interest in the Ross incident was revived today by the announcement that Prof. Arthur O. Lovejoy, associate professor of philosophy, had resigned, and that his resignation had been accepted by President Jordan.

President D. S. Jordan, in a letter to Prof. Lovejoy, said: "I beg leave at the same time to place in your hands my resignation as associate professor of philosophy. The resignation to take effect either directly or at the end of the semester, as you may think best. My reasons for taking this step relate both to the dismissal of Prof. A. Ross in November, and to the subsequent policy of the university administration. At the time of the original difficulty, you made it known that the removal had taken place contrary to your desire, and that you were not responsible for the act. Facts which came to light at that time and subsequently made it seem evident to me that Dr. Ross had been dismissed, partly because of the founder's objection to the participation of university instructors in public political meetings; partly because of her objections to the specific committee; and partly because of her own speciality, and partly because of a fear of vaguely dangerous social tendencies which it was believed that his teachings, both within and without the university, were likely to set."

Recently I have been permitted, with others of my colleagues, to review the whole of the documentary evidence in the case. As a result, I am forced to the conviction that the foregoing conditions are in fact in the case. The facts are verified beyond the possibility of further doubt. The significance of these facts seems to me clear. I do not know what is meant by the somewhat cant phrase "academic freedom." It seems to lend itself readily to a variety of interpretations. But I certainly conceive that the dismissal for such reason of an instructor whom the president of the university has regarded as a fit person to retain involves an abridgement of liberties which it is the right and duty of university teachers to demand.

Unless the members of our profession show themselves somewhat pugnacious in the maintenance of these liberties, especially in privately-owned institutions, I do not see how either the dignity of the teacher's position or the leadership and social usefulness of universities in our democratic society can be preserved. It has become increasingly apparent, however, that the administration of this university takes a rather seriously divergent view of the equities involved in the cases that have arisen here during the year. I think it necessary, therefore, to present my resignation.

I need not say that in many respects I shall sever my connection with the faculty of Stanford University with regret, for that I shall remember very pleasantly the personal kindness that I have enjoyed during the time of my service under you. I am, Very truly yours, (Signed) ARTHUR O. LOVEJOY.

The following letter was sent: OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT, Stanford University, April 29. Prof. Arthur O. Lovejoy, Stanford University—Dear Sir: I have your letter dated April 29, presenting your resignation as professor of philosophy. Without discussion of the reasons on which you base your action, I accept the resignation, and take effect at the end of the present academic year.

Very truly yours, (Signed) DAVID S. JORDAN, President.

EVILS OF AMBITION. MAQUINNA RULED AND DIED. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) VICTORIA, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Scalers, which arrived today bringing a story from Nootka, where some called to land their crews, that great excitement prevails there over the stories that Maquinna, last of the large Indian chiefs, whose death occurred a few days ago, had been poisoned.

It was said that some of the Indians plotted to get Maquinna out of the way. He was disliked because of his grasping methods of getting all the money and goods possible from his people, and some time ago he gave up the chieftainship in favor of Chief Napoleon, his fifteen-year-old descendant. Maquinna, though, could not remain idle, and grasped the reins of government. Then some Indians plotted to kill him, and gave him whisky which contained matter from decomposed corpses. Soon after drinking this the chief died, and now the Indians along the coast are asking that an investigation of his death be held.

GOLD MINE LITIGATION. WEISLING SUES HIS PARTNERS. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) PHOENIX (Ariz.) FIVE DAYS ASTRAY. CHILD'S DEAD BODY FOUND. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) TACOMA (Wash.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The little five-year-old daughter of County Commissioner W. B. Matthews, who was lost on Horse Heaven Plains, near Prosser, nearly a week ago, while hunting cattle, was found dead this morning, seven miles from home, near Lone Springs.

It appears that on the evening of the day that she was lost, she and her brother disputed over the right trail to take for home. She chose one, he the other, and he arrived safely. The whole community turned out the following day, as soon as news was spread, and until today from forty to sixty men on horseback have been searching the surrounding country.

The child's body was found in a badger hole with head and arms out. From indications, she had been dead thirty-six or forty hours, having her five days of wandering without food or water.

CHILD MADE BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE. FOUND DEAD ON PLAINS AFTER DAYS OF SUFFERING.

Lost Daughter of W. B. Matthews of Prosser, Wash., Wanders Barefooted for Five Days and Nights, Without Food or Water.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) PROSSER (Wash.) May 2.—With her little hands and mouth all stained with green from the grass and flowers she had eaten in her desperate hunger and with her features drawn in the drying agony of thirst, the body of the five-year-old daughter of W. B. Matthews, former county commissioner, who was lost on the dreary wastes of Horse Heaven plains nearly a week ago, was found today. The child in her agony had crawled into a badger hole on the prairie, and with her arms outstretched, had died. From the appearance of the body the child had been dead about thirty-six hours, so for five days and nights she had been without food and water.

The girl, with her seven-year-old brother, left her father's ranch one morning to hunt cattle. In some way during the day the children became separated. When the boy returned home in the evening without his sister, the alarm was at once given and searching parties organized, and after three men on horseback had been scouring the surrounding country day and night ever since.

Barefooted when she left home, the little girl in her wandering had bruised and cut her feet, and had gathered the tough prairie grass and wound it around them for protection. Beside her in the badger hole lay a bunch of flowers and grass which she had been eating. The place where the child was found was fully seven miles from the ranch, and not far from the Lone Springs.

INSTANTLY PARALYZED. LITTLE GIRL LOSES FACULTIES. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) REDDING, May 2.—Standing before a drainboard, engaged in wiping dishes this morning, as happy as most ten-year-old girls generally are, little Esther Rollins was suddenly stricken deaf, dumb and motionless. The awful situation was not long in creating consternation in the household of Mr. and Mrs. James Rollins, parents of the girl. A physician was summoned, and it is believed the girl will survive the shock, and that the paralysis is but temporary.

The attending physician says the stroke was caused by hemorrhage of the brain induced by some injury to the skull and brain. It is thought possible that a blow from a stone in the hands of a boy when a mere child may have been the cause of the stroke.

them and the trail in front. They wandered toward the Arctic Circle, and with no hope of weathering the storm, gave themselves up as lost.

Particulars of the discovery of the party by a passing native reindeer driver are meager. He arrived at Teller and told Dr. Wyatt that Zoellner was dead, and both Gay and Thomason would die. Wyatt immediately went to Nome and wrote a letter to Hadden of this city. It arrived yesterday, containing the above particulars. The three men started for the Arctic divide in December. They represented a company composed of San Diego and Seattle men.

OREGON'S BIRTHPLACE MARKED BY STONE. MONUMENT TO MEMORY OF THE STATE'S FOUNDERS.

Sole Survivor of the Fifty-two Who Established the Provisional Government Helps to Dedicate the Historic Spot.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) PORTLAND (Or.) May 2.—At Champego, a village thirty miles south of this city, there was unveiled today a granite monument dedicated to the memory of the fifty-two founders of the provisional government of Oregon, established in 1859. It was an event that marks an epoch in the history of Oregon, and dedicates as historic ground the spot upon which the first American government west of the Rocky Mountains had its birth.

The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument were of a most interesting character. The majority was unveiled by the sole survivor of the memorable meeting that resulted in the establishment of Oregon's provisional government, the venerable Francis Xavier Mathieu. All of the addresses were by pioneers who have been identified with the growth and development of the State from its infancy. The principal speakers were Gov. L. T. Geer, Rev. B. J. Hines and Hon. John Minto. Over 5000 people were present at the exercises.

Warm speeches were made in favor of raising a fund to bring St. John back to Whatcom and to assist in the administration of the bank.

The committee of the three were clothed with authority to act for the depositors. A determined spirit is manifest to make it warm for the missing president of the looked bank. St. John was in England, a short time ago, and a noted detective agency is already searching the surrounding country.

WOMAN HANGS HERSELF. ILL AND PROBABLY INSANE. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. J.) SANTA CRUZ, May 2.—Mrs. Alexander Carpenter committed suicide this morning by hanging herself with a bale rope to a rafter in a shed in the rear of her residence, East Santa Cruz. She had been ill, and her husband decided to take her to a sanitarium at St. Helena today. When she arose to prepare breakfast, she went to the shed, placed the rope around her neck while standing on a box, and then strangled herself.

Mrs. Carpenter had been once in the asylum at Lincoln, Neb., and twice in the Agnew asylum. Eighteen years ago she was thrown from a buggy, striking on her head, and insanity is supposed to have resulted. She recently came here from Nipoma. She was a native of Ohio, about 50 years old.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BAYERSFIELD, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jim Tremble of Los Angeles was knocked out by Al Neill of San Francisco tonight at Scribner's Opera-house in the first round. A lucky right-hand swing to the head dashed Tremble, who went to the floor. He was apparently in a dazed condition, as he failed to take advantage of the count. He was up three seconds later and was promptly knocked through the ropes and almost off the stage. He was out for several seconds over the top.

Loud cries of "take" came from the gallery, but the fight was pronounced to be on its merits by Teddy McGovern, who referred the "go," as well as by those present who were versed in the fighting game. It was a quick ending to what was thought would be a hard fight. Both men looked in splendid condition.

McGovern and Doherty boxed a four-round exhibition bout of cyclone order. Terry left for San Francisco tonight after the fight.

San Francisco Politicians Favor the Successful Philippine Campaigner for Governor, But Ambitious Ones Suggest
Him for Mayor.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The return of Gen. James P. Smith from the Philippine Islands promises a flurry in politics. Gen. Smith is due to arrive here in June. Meanwhile the leaders of Democratic are speculating as to available candidates. Several local men believe Gen. Smith would make a good Governor, as they want him out of the way for Mayor.

A different view is taken by Senator Elms, Assessor Washington Dodge, ex-Gov. Budd, Mayor Snyder of Los Angeles, and others. They have an eye on the seat at Sacramento now occupied by Gov. Gage. They are quite satisfied Gen. Smith would be out of the place as a candidate for Governor and unite in endorsing him as an ideal candidate for Mayor.

The Democrats count much on Smith's successful record in the Philippines to carry him to success in the polls, whatever may be the office for which he is nominated.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICIALS' BOUGHS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works yesterday, the assembled oil men were informed that they must either take care of oil at the wells or submit to the enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting oil on the streets. Judge Shaw has rendered a decision in the big Mayberry litigation, whereby Mrs. Emily G. Mayberry, who sued for $100,000 damages, was awarded $10,000.

A jury awarded damages in $10,000 yesterday to Theodore Kretschmar, who lost both arms from contact with an electric wire in the mountains in July, 1899. The defendant was the Pasadena and Mt. Lowe Railway Company.

Theodore Specht was fined $5 yesterday by Judge Trask for contempt of court.

Charles Benjamin, the "sole survivor" of the Custer massacre, was fined $10 in the Police Court yesterday for disturbing the peace.

Joe McIntosh was found guilty in the Police Court yesterday of carrying a concealed weapon, which he is alleged to have had ready for his wife, when he abused, but who would not testify against him.

John Stand, an Italian, was tried in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of stealing thirty pounds of peanuts from W. C. P. Co. of the city.

At last there is promise for the abatement of the oil nuisance. If the determinations of the Board of Public Works are carried out much good will come to all afflicted parts of the city. There was a large crowd of oil men present at the special session of the board yesterday afternoon. Much interest was manifested in devising some plan to keep the oil from the streets. Any property owners from the Fourth and Fifth wards, especially along Pasadena and Washington streets, were hand to urge vigorous measures. One thing was shown to the satisfaction of all concerned. Oil men are not in their duties as citizens, and as they would be sufferers by enforcement of the law, it is reasonable to suppose that such is the case. Long property owners this same sentiment prevails with great unanimity.

There would be no trouble from oil if the present ordinance were enforced, declared Edward Strassburg, president of the Oil Storage and Transportation Company, after the meeting yesterday. "I do not suppose," he said, "that you suppose I would continue to employ careless men to work at my oil wells. I would not. Neither would any other man. It seems to me this question is fairly up to the oil men. Let the oil men take care of their own business. The ordinance as it stands on the books is perfectly clear in its intent. It is drafted when there was a very few oil wells in the city, and it is not fitted to meet present conditions. If this is true it is because it is too plain in its intent that no loophole is left for the oil men to escape."

LABORING AND PRAYING. Ever since the flood of oil and sticky steam began to run so freely upon streets in the hill section attention has been called to the need for enforcement of this ordinance. Time against the question has come up on account of oil that finds its way into the streets. The ordinance is questioned. The oil men have said that they are laboring and praying for the ordinance to be enforced.

THE ORDINANCE. The ordinance is heavily defective. It is a law that will be read with interest. It is known to the municipal officers as Ordinance No. 1867, adopted December 1, 1894. It reads as follows:

It is the duty of every owner of an oil well, or of any place, or of any land, or of any building, or of any other property, to take such measures as may be necessary to prevent the escape of oil from his well, or from his place, or from his building, or from his other property, and to keep the same from running upon the streets, or upon any public street, alley, or into any canal, irrigating ditch, or sewer of the city of Los Angeles.

Any person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $200, or imprisonment in the City Jail for a period not exceeding ninety days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

At this point, there was a general laugh at Mr. Hall's expense. The ordinance, it was said, was not a law, but a mere suggestion.

MUST STAND FOR EX-HUSBAND'S DEBTS.

ANOTHER STEP PASSED UP IN MAYBERRY LITIGATION.

Mrs. Emily G. Mayberry's Share of the Community Property Becomes Li-able for Husband's Debts. Against ex-Husband, Ernestine Capitalist.

Emily G. Mayberry, former wife of Edward L. Mayberry, the capitalist, who is interested in a colonization scheme in Riverside county, at Hemet, and was once reputed to be a millionaire, must now stand responsible for some of his debts. A suit involving many thousands of dollars was decided by Judge Shaw in the Superior Court yesterday, and according to his opinion, Mrs. Mayberry stands to lose, although at the same time she is also a winner.

It all involves the financial maneuvers of a pioneer promoter, whose dream was to develop all a-scent with the bloom of the rose.

In 1888 Mayberry, after many years spent in heavy building-contracting throughout the West, began to develop the town of Hemet. To do this work he was compelled to borrow money from W. F. Whittier of San Francisco, the amount of $104,712. For security he gave promissory notes. In March, 1899, Mrs. Mayberry began suit against him for divorce, which was granted over a year ago on the ground of extreme cruelty. The decree was made by Judge Allen in the Superior Court of this county.

During the progress of the divorce trial, however, and before any final decree was entered relative to a division of the community property, Whittier brought forward evidence that Mayberry had executed on his notes and was given judgment in something like $100,000. He also produced a check for $100,000, which he claimed was a check on the community property.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

MUST STAND FOR EX-HUSBAND'S DEBTS.

ANOTHER STEP PASSED UP IN MAYBERRY LITIGATION.

Mrs. Emily G. Mayberry's Share of the Community Property Becomes Li-able for Husband's Debts. Against ex-Husband, Ernestine Capitalist.

Emily G. Mayberry, former wife of Edward L. Mayberry, the capitalist, who is interested in a colonization scheme in Riverside county, at Hemet, and was once reputed to be a millionaire, must now stand responsible for some of his debts. A suit involving many thousands of dollars was decided by Judge Shaw in the Superior Court yesterday, and according to his opinion, Mrs. Mayberry stands to lose, although at the same time she is also a winner.

It all involves the financial maneuvers of a pioneer promoter, whose dream was to develop all a-scent with the bloom of the rose.

In 1888 Mayberry, after many years spent in heavy building-contracting throughout the West, began to develop the town of Hemet. To do this work he was compelled to borrow money from W. F. Whittier of San Francisco, the amount of $104,712. For security he gave promissory notes. In March, 1899, Mrs. Mayberry began suit against him for divorce, which was granted over a year ago on the ground of extreme cruelty. The decree was made by Judge Allen in the Superior Court of this county.

During the progress of the divorce trial, however, and before any final decree was entered relative to a division of the community property, Whittier brought forward evidence that Mayberry had executed on his notes and was given judgment in something like $100,000. He also produced a check for $100,000, which he claimed was a check on the community property.

STOMACHS THAT WON'T WORK.

That Retain the Food and Refuse to Digest It, Make the Head Heavy and the Nerves Weak, Need Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Sufferers who have tried noxious nostrums will probably be skeptical, but skepticism vanishes when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are tried. Whether the trouble is dyspepsia of long standing, merely a simple case of indigestion, relief is prompt and pronounced. The less the trouble the fewer tablets need be taken.

As indicated by belching, fatigue with slight exertion, or with no exertion at all, disturbed sleep, nervousness, constipation, depression, "blues," these things can commonly be set down as symptoms of dyspepsia. And dyspepsia is merely indigestion in an aggravated form.

Promoting perfect digestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets produce strong nerves, restful, refreshing sleep, pure blood and good, sound, healthy flesh. They make the skin clear, the eyes bright, the complexion rosy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a medicine and more than a medicine. They digest the food and make it easy to assimilate, and they relieve the inflamed, diseased condition of the membranes lining and the glands of the stomach and bowels. They help the digestive organs over the hard places, and put them in a healthy, active condition. They effect a quick and permanent cure. You don't have to continue taking them forever, still it is well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the trouble.

Perfectly well people are made sick by eating too much, or of unwholesome food, but not by taking a tablet after eating. Treatment with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets does not necessitate dieting or any change of habits. They digest the proper food and act upon the other kind in such a way as to make it pass off quickly and harmlessly. You may eat and drink what you like when you like, and as much as you like if you take a tablet afterwards.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents for full-size packages.

GRADING A TOWNSHIP.

REDONDO, May 2.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] About forty horses and mules are employed on the grading of the new townsite of Hermosa, on the sands north of town.

The work now under way is the grading of a street from the Santa Fe railway to the beach. It is understood that this is being done first so as to provide a road for the hauling of the lumber which is to be used in building a plank walk on the beach. It is said that the grading outfit will be employed about the townsite all through the summer.

SANTA MONICA.

YELLOWFIN FISHING PAD.

SANTA MONICA, May 2.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] Angling for yellowfin is going to be a fad along the Santa Monica coast, and particularly on the Ocean Park front. The anglers go after that variety of the finny race with rod and reel lines which are cast from along the beach. As a wave recedes the fishermen follow the water's edge as the surf comes in, and when the tide is out they throw and run back so as to avoid the next incoming wave. The yellowfin in the surf are gamy and frequently it requires a long struggle to land one of these. Some notable catches of that kind have been made within the past few days.

STATE SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR.

Dr. Manning of Los Angeles, First Vice-President—Interesting Papers Read by Some of the Members—Banquet Tendered the Delegates.

AVAILON, May 2.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] The California State Homeopathic Medical Society convened in its twenty-fifth annual session here yesterday at 2 p. m. in the ballroom at the Metropole, which was decorated with flowers and bunting.

Dr. Guy E. Manning, chairman of the Board of Examiners, made a report of the doings of his board. There were held during the year nine meetings, at which fifty-eight licenses were granted. This is the highest number ever granted in any one year. Fifty of the licensees were men and eight were ladies.

George H. Martin, M.D., of San Francisco, chairman of the Committee on School Legislation, detailed the history of his efforts in regard to the passage of a bill through the Legislature which provides that no more than twenty recitations per week shall be required of pupils in secondary schools, and no pupils under the age of 16 years in any grammar or primary school shall be required to do any home study.

Dr. Palmer, chairman of the Committee on Legislation, reported the efforts made to secure uniformity of medical laws governing all states.

In the Bureau of Medical Education Dr. George H. Martin of San Francisco read an interesting paper on "Medical Colleges Under Federal Control." Dr. Martin took the position that the medical laws now existing in most of the states requiring physicians in good standing from another state to pass an examination of the state board of medical colleges of the country under the control of the Surgeon-General, and that they be required to come up to a standard of excellence, grades of colleges under such inspection to be assured to possess the requisite qualifications to practice in any state.

Dr. J. M. Seifried of Oakland, a veteran practitioner, read "An Epitome of the History of Homeopathy in California," giving a very complete history of the school which was introduced into this state by Dr. Oberly, J. 1849. The paper was ordered printed.

The bureau of microscopy, Dr. F. B. Barnard of Los Angeles read a paper on "Microscopy in Pathology." Dr. Barnard's paper was a most interesting and instructive one, and was well received by the audience.

Dr. Charles Lewis Tisdale of Alameda, told of two apoplexies which recently came under his observation. The first was that of a man, the second of a woman. Both cases were cured by the use of homeopathic remedies.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Ernest Dawson Wins the Silver Medal—First Grand Diamond Contest Will Soon Take Place.

Last night an oratorical contest for a silver medal offered by the Los Angeles Loyal Temperance Legion, took place at the United Presbyterian Church at Eighth and Hill streets. The medal was won by Ernest Dawson, one of the young teachers of the Sunday school.

He delivered a recitation on "The Patriotic Sins of Temperance." The contestants and their subjects were as follows: Ernest Dawson, "The Patriotic Sins of Temperance;" Albert Maxham, "My Experience in Using Tobacco;" Miss Belle Blackley, "In the Keen;" Miss Min Pauline, "Taken by Surprise;" Miss Emily Brandt, "Boys of America;" Harry Cain, "The Converted Runneler."

Fine vocal music was rendered by Messrs. Dawson and Misses Dawson. Every contestant was given a medal. The meeting was presided over by Clifford Pauline. It being impossible to charge admission of the law relating to churches of taxation, a liberal collection was taken to cover expenses.

This contest is an outgrowth of the old Temperance contests, which are still kept up. The W.C.T.U. now conducts a series of contests under less strict regulations. Since the death of Mrs. Demorest, the wife of the founder of the system, the associations have been obliged to purchase their own medals. These are now of several classes, silver, gold, grand gold, diamond and grand diamond. In the very near future, the first grand diamond contest ever held on this coast will take place at the Temperance Temple. This will be only the third contest of the kind ever held in the United States. The holders of Demorest and W.C.T.U. medals are allowed in the same contest for the higher medals.

For both kinds of medals the contestants are limited to the reciting of certain pieces contained in temperance literature compiled for the special purpose.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Good Entertainment Given Last Evening by the Senior Class of the College of Oratory.

The senior class of the College of Oratory of the University of Southern California, gave one of the best entertainments of the year in the college chapel last night. The audience was large and the program was excellent.

The first number was a selection by the University Orchestra, which was well received. The second number was "Hamlet" by the Misses Helen Christie, Lena Turner, Wilma Ryus and Josephine Coker. The young ladies were well executed.

The interpretation of Hamlet's character in scene 2, Act 3, by Miss Christie was the heaviest work of the evening, and her handling of it was a skillful manner.

Miss Lena Turner's reading, "Bobbie Shatto," was another feature, receiving an encore.

A farce, "Romero's Romance Followed," was the most popular number. The story is well written, and its interpretation kept the audience in a continual roar of laughter. As Miss Spring, principal of the young ladies' seminary, Miss Josephine Coker acted the part admirably. Miss Wilma Ryus was clever as Gwendolin, a pupil in the seminary, and her array of costumes was a feature.

Lena Turner, as Dora, another pupil in the school, and Miss Christie as Marie, French cleaner, both handled their parts in a skillful manner.

Miss Mabel Treasler gave a pleasing recitation.

HIGH SCHOOL HONORED.

Visitor from a Mysterious Realm. Design to be interviewed by a Professor—Svenagali a Little Retired.

The High School had a visitor from out of the mysterious East. He wore a long-tailed coat of funeral darkness and raven black locks hung loose over his shoulders like a mane. His solemn countenance, tanned with black Svenagali beard, cast a melancholy gleam over the landscape. In the middle of his back hung a pink and black curtain weirdly embroidered with cabalistic signs.

He came stalking into the patio of the High School Annex, and gazed about with curious interest. One of the recreation room doors was open, and he stepped forward to investigate.

Mr. Francis, the principal of the commercial course, executed a flank movement to head him off. Svenagali turned on him a solemn stare.

At last he spoke. The voice seemed to rebound from out of the ages of darkness.

"As you reckon time," he said, "I have lived seventeen years, but I have seen nothing like this before."

"What is your name?" asked Mr. Francis, politely.

Svenagali considered the matter. "I don't think you could understand it," he said.

"You are not now," he said, "May be professor rather crushing, but the professor rallied his bruised dignity and made some sort of a friendly advance."

Svenagali serenely disregarded his remark. He observed that a large share of the population of the world are his brothers.

"Am I not your brother, then?" asked the teacher, hopefully.

Svenagali was reluctant to hurt his feelings, so he conceded that he is "sort of a brother." He was not enthusiastic over the relationship, however.

"If I am your brother, don't you think I might be able to understand your name?"

Svenagali cast upon him a glance of pity. "No, no now," he said, "May be you will be able to in the course of a few cycles."

"Good-bye," said the teacher, so suggestively that Svenagali marched majestically from the courtyard.
